IMPORTANT TO OWNERS OF SEWING MACHINES. The owners of sewing machines who have left them with Mr. D. B. HASELTON, No. 331 King street, to be repaired and have neglected to remove the same, are notified that unless soon called for they will be sold. Parties interested are referred to Mr. HASELTON'S advertisement in another

DEPARTURE OF GEN. SICKLES .- Major-General D. E. SICKLES left Saturday morning for New York, on the steamer Manhautan. On leaving the Citadel a salute of thirteen guns was fired, and the General was escorted to the boat by a number of friends; several expressions of esteem were manifested on the wharf, and the General was greeted with cheers as the boat was loosed from her moorings and floated in the stream.

A CHEAP FRUIT PRESERVER. Common raw cotton is said to furnish the best and most simple means of preserving fruit for a long time. It is extensively used in many localities for keeping grapes fresh all the winter. The method employed is as follows: The bunches are gently laid between a layer of cotton in a glass or earthen jar. The jar is then corked down and the corks dipped in melted rosin. This would, no doubt, be a very successful method for preserving apples and pears and other fruit, as they could be stored away in large boxes in a dry cellar or store room. Those who have fine fruit they wish to preserve for family use would do well to try the experiment.

PAINTS, OILS, &c .- The advertisements of Messrs WM. M. Bran & Co., to be seen in another column, will convince our readers that the caption of this article is not a mere notice to catch the eyes of the public. Messrs. W. M. BIRD & Co. have at their stand, No. 203 East Bay, not only a fail supply of Paints, Oils, Varnishes, &c., but are the agents for Howe's Scales and MARVIN'S Fire Proof Safes. Their stock is from the first hands, and everything sold is guaranteed to be what it is represented. Messrs. BIRD & Co. have enjoyed an extended reputation for business capacity, &c., and are prepared to guarantee their customers the best terms that are offered in this city. Their stock is large and varied, and should command attention. We refer all who are interested in house building material to No. 203 East Bay, and they will be served to the best that

MESSES. H. H. BADENHOP & Co.-These gentlemen have added another laurel to their brows, and in becoming public caterers have shown that they are servants of the public and seek only their welfare. The well known spot in Meeting street has been metamorphosed into an eating house, and in addition to the bar, which was one of the features of the room, are now to be seen certain booths and marble topped tables, which portend a and building material generally, for the past sev future far different from the past. Mr. BADENHOP has fortunately secured the services of Charles Roberts as caterer, and cuisine under his management is equal to any that can be found. Those who were present during the times that tried men's souls will remember the disinterested kindness of Roberts, when our troops passed through this city weary and foot sore. The sympathy was all that could be given-but it has been abundantly recompensed by the patronage bestowed upon Roberts. He is known to be a caterer of great ability, and his connection with the saloon of Messrs. Badenhop & Co. is a sure card for public

At present the establishment is arranged for the accommodation of a few parties, who might wish to take a private meal or indulge in a petit souper. The chef d' cuisine is a man of marked ability, and we are convinced that Messrs. Badenhop & Co., will not suffer by the change. We are able, fortunately, to speak from experience, and can cordially recommend the cuisine of Charles Roberts, as second to none in the city. Messrs. BADENHOP & Co., are now prepared to serve their customers with both liquid and solid refreshments, and we advise all who care about enjoying life here below per M. will be seen by an advertisement in another column, Mr. L. L. Siddons has opened, at No. 304 King street, near Wentworth, a new, thorough and complete Jewelry Store. In addition to the usual recommendations, Mr. Siddons brings to his its general details, and being a pract al jeweler, he can ensure to his customers a personal attention to their orders, and is enabled to guarantee perfect workmanship in every detail. His store is Taylor & Co., have just completed, in addition t well supplied with every article known to the has been selected expressly for this market, and comprises those goods that are most acceptable to our citizens, such as Watches, Jeweley in its various descriptions, Silverwave, &c.

In addition to his busicess as a loweler Mr. Suppose, having eighteen years experience in the trade, is fully capable of attending to the wants of his customers in every respect, not only as a jeweler but as an optician. In arranging his new store, great care has been taken to add every inducement that would convince his customers of down here from New York, and has been informed prepared to give sight to the blind. THE INLAND AIR LINE ROUTE.-The Wilmington Post says: "We call attention to the following dispatch by the new and enterprising line over our railroads-a lot of cotton shipped from Cheraw, S. C., by J. C. Medlin and A. Benton, on the 31st Inland Air Line in sixty-eight hours from Cheraw. We may also mention that goods from New York to Charleston, to STOLL. WEBB & Co., were ordered on Monday and received in Charleston on the following Friday. We are also informed that WELLS BROS., W. J. REID, R. J. DONALDSON and others in Cheraw received goods from New York

OUD ASSOCIATIONS REVIVED .- Broad street was before the war the great head centre of the mer chant tailors of the city, and the buildings occu pled by them were, in architectural design, the prominent features of the thoroughfare. The war, and the stagnation caused by the subsequent poverty of the country, caused many of these places of business to be closed, but we are happy to see that, with our returning prosperity, the "Station" at 2:30 o'clock P.M., and to be ready for merchant tailors are seeking their old homes. No. 30 Broad street, the brown stone building, tormerly occupied by Messes C. D. Mr. Connor has recently removed from No. 67 Meeting street, near the Mills House, to ponement of the sale of the Florida, Atlantic and No. 30 Broad street. His friends, and those of Messrs. C. D. Care & Co., can find him at the old stand of the latter firm, where he is prepared to give his customers fits at the same time he allows them to suit themselves.

THE CAROLINA EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE. - Among the educational institutions of the day few rank higher than that conducted by Mesdames GIRARD & DOWELL. The ladies conducting this institution are well known to our community as being admirably adapted for this calling, and the young ideas trained by them will, in their maturity, reflect credit on their instructors. There are few schools that have a better reputation than the Carolina Educational Institute, as every effort has been made to secure perfection. The ladies at the head of this establishment are not only thoroughly acquainted with their duties, but have associated with themselves in the management of the school teachers of known ability. Mr. G. W. ALEXANDER, who has an enlarged experience in the art of teaching, is connected with this establishment, and the pupils under his tuition are readily inducted into the paths of knowledge.

The exercises of this Institute will be resumed on the 16th inst. Its past career guarantees that the same prosperity will still attend it, as it presents advantages to young ladies that few schools or seminaries can compete with.

THE MUNICIPAL AND THE MILITARY.-An extra meeting of Council was called on Saturday morning for the purpose of paying their respects to the newly appointed Commanding General. At 12 M. his Honor the Mayor and a number of Aldermen took the cars for the Citadel, and were landed at the King street entrance. They were shown to the office of the Commanding General, and the Mayor, in a few remarks, stated the object of the visit, and hoped that the same friendly relations might continue to exist between the Municipal and Military Authorities as were in force under the former commander. General Canby assured the Mayor of his intention to preserve order and discipline, and that he would rely on the civil authorities to act in the same manner, and that he would be always ready to furnish assistance in case any tumult or disturbance should arise. After a short conversation the conference was closed, and the nunicipal authorities returned, satisfied that the change of commanders would produce no ill results for our city. During the morning a number of gentlemen of this city paid their respects to General CANBY, and welcomed him to the command of the Department.

THE KENTUCKY STATE LOTTERY .- In the present age of excitement, few enterprises present more attractions than a Lottery. This fact is well known and the different Lotteries have established on principles that will ensure their success. Among those that have presented their claims to the public, few rank higher than the Kentucky State Lottery. This has been established on terms that almost ensure to the parties in vesting some percentage on their money. It is conducted equitably and the drawings take place at Covington under the direction and supervision of the managers. The inducements offered are sufficient to persuade hundreds to invest and they are seldom mistaken in their speculation. The Lottery is drawn on the most equitable terms. The numbers from 1 to 32,000, corresponding with those numders on the tickets, printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes, and placed in one wheel. The first 473 prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and consistency by the Commissioner the prize being enclosing a small lock of hair, and giving place of birth, egistered by the Commissioner, the prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation s repeated until all the prizes are drawn out. Mr. H. T. Peters is the licensed agent for this city, and can be found at his office in Hasel street, where he will be prepared to serve all customers.

MANUFACTURES. -SIGNS OF PROSPERITY. - We had the pleasure, on Saturday evening, of inspecting some of the finest work in the way of window sashes, side lights, &c., that we have ever seen This was manufactured at the establishment of Mr. W. P. RUSSELL, who has enjoyed a widespread popularity in this and the adjoining States in the manufacture of sashes, blinds and doors, enteen years. The work alluded to is the side and head lights for the main entrance and wings of a residence now being erected by John T. Jennings, Esq., a successful planter of Barnwell District. These side lights, &c., are glazed with the finest Bohemian cut glass ic blue and ruby, an 1 present when prt together, a most beautiful offect, and reflects great credit on Mr. Russell. in the arragement. We are informed by Mr. Russell. that he has never made up finer or more costly material for buildings since he has been manufacing in Charleston. It is encouraging to know, in these times, that there are among us planters, 'native and to the manor born," who have, since the war, managed so successfully and under circumstances so trying, have been able to erect such dwellings, and that we have mechanics among us fully competent to get up work of this character. Mr. Jennings is operating largely in the manufacture of lumber for the Charleston market, and Mr. Russell informs us that he is producing cypress lumber of the finest quality at $40 per M., which he will use entirely in the manufacture of sash, blinds and doors, in lieu of Northern pine, which cannot be laid down in Charleston at less than $80 will produce clear timber 24 inches square, from 40 to 50 feet long; this cut into boards and A NEW JEWELEY STORE ON KING STREET. March 1, 1867. )

Merrs. Little & Marshall:

Gentlemen: I used, during the past season, one of "Ingersoll's Portable Cotton Presses," purchased of you last september. I have always been prejudiced in favor of the "Screw Press," and nothing but dire necessity induced me to try any other. I take pleasure, however, in adding my teatimony in favor of its entire adaptation to the wants of a cotton plantation. It has surpassed my most saognine expectations. I have packed with but two hands, yet I preter four—two at each lever. My bales all weighed over 500 bs. The first lot I sent to market averaged 562 lt.s. My impression is that 500 bs. is about the capacity of the Press, and a greater number of pounds subject the follow-block to too much risk, unless the sides of the cotton box was increased. It would add greatly to the value of the Press if the cotton box was ten inches longer. In haste, I am, very respectfully, Your obedient servant, &c., B. W. LAWTON. P. S. I took my Press down and carried it some four miles to pack the crop of a neighbor, who failed to have a "Screw" built; he was so much pleased that he has determined to abandon the "Screw" and purchase "Ingersoll's Press."

GENTLEMEN: I have just received your letter of February 14th—upon my return to this place, after an absence of two months—and this reply may be too late for your "Descriptive Circular of Ingersoll's Cotton Fress."

The Press I used in packing my cotton last year worked admirably, packing, with ease from 600 to 625 lbs. With good active hands to work it, I am satisfied that from eighteen to twenty bales might readily be packed in a day.

This Prives combines the advantages of lightness, and consequent portability and simplicity (being easily man-

This Press combines the advantages of figuress, and consequent portability and simplicity (being easily managed by any one of ordinary intelligence). Great compressing force, with little motive power, and "last, but not least," it is worked entirely by hand, thus saving for the farm horses the hard labor imposed upon them by the use of the ordinary "Screw."

Respectfully, &c., yours. F. M. LAW.
